HOME MEANS NEVADA

... to some of us — all of the time, to all of us at least part of the time. The University of Nevada, being a land-grant college, is a state within a state by virtue of student representation. But our sights and thinking cannot end here on the "hill." This Artemisia then, is dedicated to the state of Nevada and thus to the students here at our "little Nevada."

The colorful history of the state, as well as its future, is reflected in the state seal. The extent to which resources represented here are further developed is dependent on us. The rising sun which dawns on this new era will be the one which we have made.

Welcome to NEVADA

... tour the campus

... tour the campus

... tour the campus

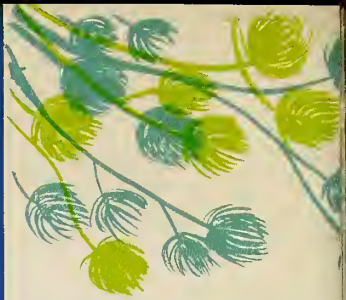

... tour the campus

... tour the campus

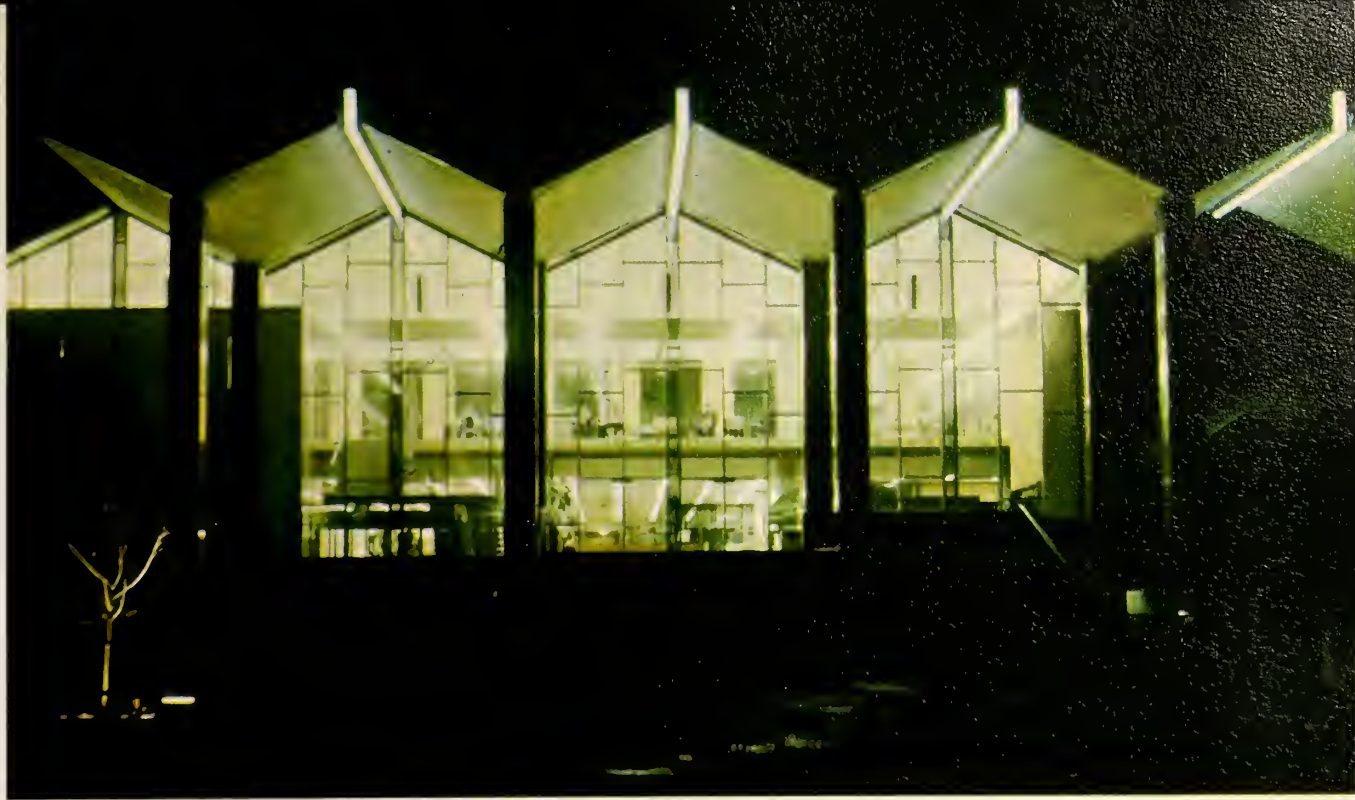

Welcome to Nevada, or welcome back as the case may be. Take a pictorial tour of the campus starting with the main gate which was given by the classes of '98 and '01. From there we see the old, familiar sights of Morrill Hall and the statue of John Mac-kay. But the face of the University is always changing and some of the scenes are not so familiar.

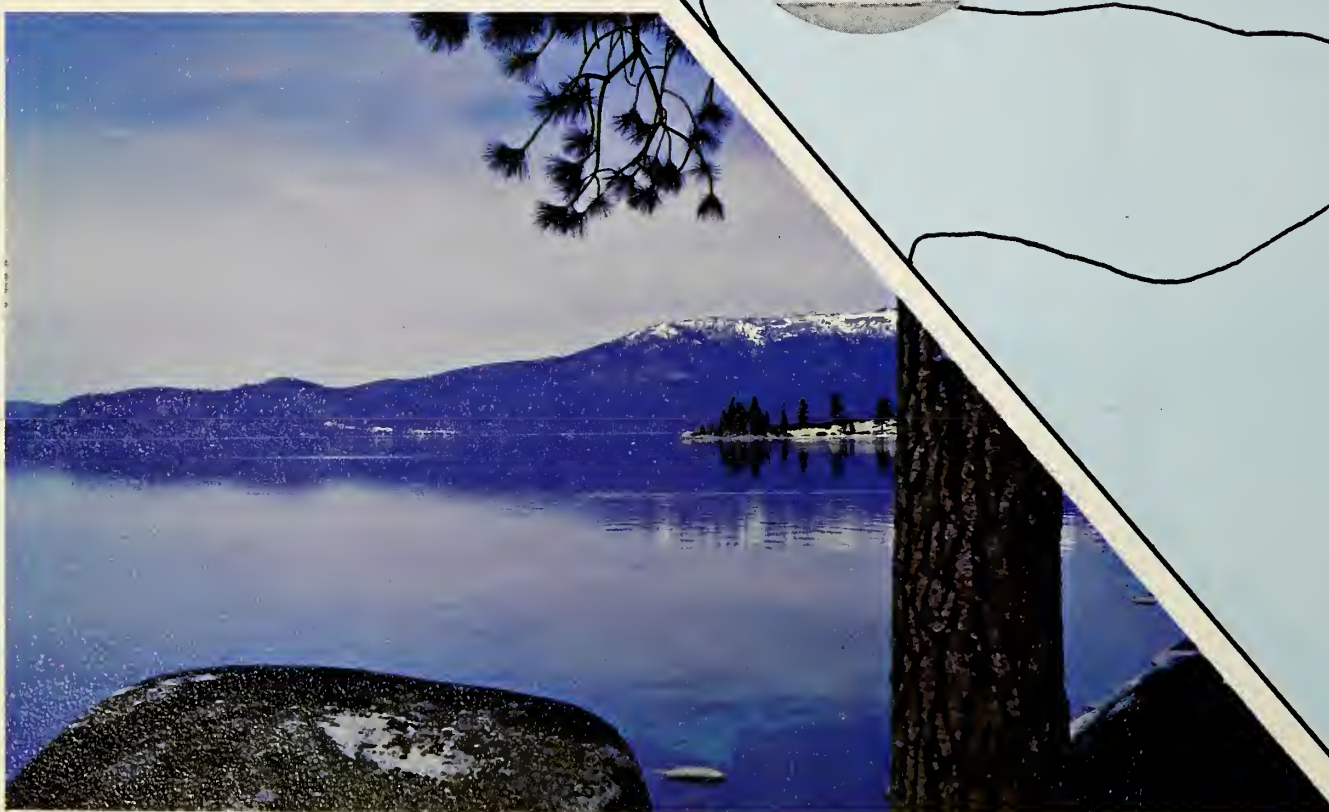

Our campus is graced with names like Scrugham Engineering, Sarah Hamilton Fleischmann Home Economics, and Noble H. Getchell library. These are part of the new face of Nevada. But the people make up the school and their activities are what make the University of Nevada more than just a collection of buildings.

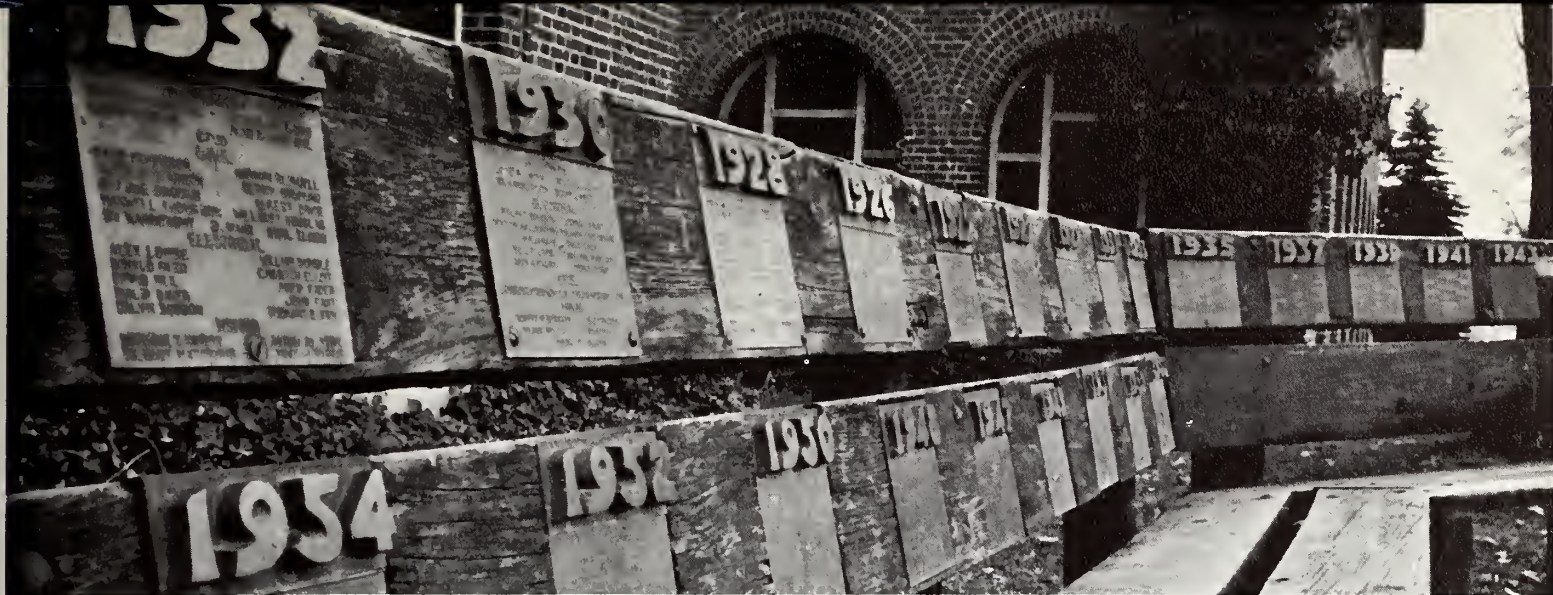

... and when we're not on campus we may be found downtown, Virginia City, or Lake Tahoe.

ADMINISTRATION and FACULTY

GOVERNOR

Governor Grant Sawyer

Our University of Nevada graduates of the '60s will be starting their careers in an era of unprecedented growth and prosperity, during which the state has leaped to a position of leadership in many phases of economic activity.

Today, Nevada is the fastest growing state in the nation and its citizens, enjoying record levels of employment, have the highest per capita income in the country. American industry is relocating in Nevada, helping to diversify our economy. The state has become a major space age testing center and it appears likely the first spaceship to the moon will be powered by a nuclear engine developed in the Nevada desert.

All this, of course, brings with it new challenges and we find the answers of yesterday are not sufficient for the questions of today.

I am proud of the University of Nevada for helping to shape young men and women equipped with the ability, determination and thirst for knowledge that are necessary if we are to keep Nevada moving ahead in the years to come. Grant Sawyer, Governor

PRESIDENT

As another year in the life of the University draws to a close, we think first of the members of the graduating classes, and extend to them our sincere congratulations on their achievement, and cordial good wishes for success and happiness in their future undertakings. We hope that you graduates of 1963 have found intellectual challenge in your studies here, satisfying associations and lasting friendships among your colleagues, and the conviction that the education you have obtained here, and the even greater education which lies ahead of you in the years to come, will be the largest single factor in the making of your lives in accordance with your best desires.

This has indeed been a year of continued achievement. The great physical growth of the University on two campuses has been accelerated, and many new buildings and new facilities have been provided. But, important as this growth has been, much more important are our continued strides toward excellence and intellectual maturity, as more Ph.D. programs have come into operation, the Honors Program moves forward, higher academic standards are developed, increasing emphasis is placed on research — the catalyst of good teaching and new knowledge — and a new seriousness of purpose motivates our thinking.

It is important and especially gratifying to note that the initiative for the development of our new improved academic standards of admission and scholastic progress came from the students themselves, through the ASUN Senate. Similarly, students have provided leadership in developing our new expanded foreign student program, in bringing distinguished speakers on subjects of national importance to the campus, and in many other ways fostering and stimulating our progress toward excellence. Without such student participation and leadership, this progress would have been impossible. We may all, students and faculty alike, take pride in what has been done this year; but more importantly, we must renew our resolve and our conviction that the challenges of the future will yield only to our common efforts in the spirit of mutual purpose which we have already so well achieved.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Mike Mackedon
ASUN President

The University of Nevada is expanding at an unprecedented rate. This expansion, however, remains external physical growth until those, who comprise this University and who have faith in it as a living institution, channel this expansion in the direction of academic and social excellence. Change is not progress until people give direction to change, and thought to progress. Thus we must be careful to know the past, and to exploit the present, but prepare for the future with a vigor that comes from an intractable faith in ourselves and those around us.

AWS PRESIDENT

The class of '63 leaves the University of Nevada, perhaps, never to return. We set our goals four long years ago. Many of our original group turned from the chosen path, to wander, some aimlessly and some purposefully, down other various roads. But those who remained have cherishable memories to recall during times of depression or gladness which will fill our lives in future years. Among our memories, let us ever remember the words of a wise professor — "defeat comes from within!"

COACHING STAFF

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack had its most successful season in ten years; the team record was 5 wins, 3 losses and one tie. The Wolf Pack placed third in the Far Western Conference and also placed five men on the All Far Western Team. Some of the highspots of the season were our defeats of Whittier 21-6, Idaho State 14-7, and our homecoming victory over Humbolt State, 15-0. Three of the teams that Nevada defeated were rated in the top twenty in National small college ratings at the season's end.

The fine representation of our football team, both on and off the field, should make the students of Nevada very proud.

The Wolf Pack basketball team finished the season with an overall 11-13 record, and a 6-6 record for a tie for third in the conference. Some of the highspots of Coach Spencer's fourth season were Nevada's seven game winning streak and their 76-74 victory over the U.S.F. Dons; Stewart Johnson was picked on the All Far-Western Conference team and Bob Donlan received honorable mention. Bright spot for the future was the undefeated season of the Frosh team.

The boxing team at the University of Nevada had an undefeated season. Coach Jimmy Olivas' boxers defeated the Cal Bears twice, drew and won over Chico, and beat the Twelfth Naval District. All-American Skip Houk and Portal Trophy winner Dave Stix paced the squad throughout the year. Nevada took an unofficial first in the CIB Tournament with Jim Evans, Dave Stix, Chris Wilson, and Larry Williamson winning in their respective divisions. Nevada should be proud of its boxers, both in and out of the ring.

TRACK

One of the finest track teams on the Pacific Coast belongs to the University of Nevada, headed by Coach Dick Dankworth. The track team, coming off an undefeated season last year, figures to be even stronger this year. In 1962, along with winning all of its dual and triangular meets, the team won the college division of the Santa Barbara relays, the Davis relays, and the Sacramento relays. For the third straight year, the Wolf Pack team won the Far Western Conference championship, scoring a total of 114 points. On May 17 at Santa Barbara, the team competed and won against seventeen other small college powers on the West Coast to become N.C.A.A. Small College Pacific Coast Regional Champions. To wind up the season, Bob Pedersen competed in the National N.C.A.A. meet at Eugene, Oregon and placed ninth in the discus. This climaxed one of the finest track seasons that Nevada has ever had.

SEPTEMBER

September came, and with it a whirl of Activities for university students. Only one of the many things that high-lighted the annual Trek-Nik was a speech by Mr. Richard Hamm, executive secretary to Governor Sawyer. The A.W.S. Fashion Show also contributed to make this month a fun filled one to remember.

Mr. Richard Hamm; executive secretary to Governor Sawyer.

Dick Gregory

Snake-dances through the streets, long-underware and nightgowns, and a roaring bonfire at Mackay Stadium all helped to make this year's Pajama Rally one to remember. Entertainment of all types was in store for University students, as they were also treated to hearing comedian Dick Gregory.

Now for the beer!

LEADERSHIP

Leadership kicks off the school year in a retreat held at Lake Tahoe. This year discussion groups on campus problems were held, lead by various campus leaders. The delegates participated in the busy, fun-filled two days.

Wonder if their enjoying themselves?

REGISTRATION

And once again the process begins.

FROSH-SOPH FIELD DAY

But I don't want to go for a swim.

Hey! This one's full of beer.

Are you sure you want to join the boxing team?

But, I thought you liked low-cut dresses?

PLEDGE

You even washed behind your ears tonight!

Ouch! Who's the wise guy with the pin?

When are you going to learn to tie your own shoes?

as the sororities and fraternities kicked off their social whirl by honoring their new pledges at the annual pledge dances.

Of course, I've never read palms professionally, but as I see it. . . .

Boy, that "Firewater" was too much for me!

They just have to have a ladies room somewhere in this place!

DANCES

Kappa Alpha Theta's cowboy-wolf brought home a trophy for their float "Get 'Em in the End."

WINNING FLOATS

Sigma Nu added the revolving trophy to their collection with "Last Act, Lumberjack."

The Tri-Delts, despite a slight mishap before the parade, still entered their float "Duck Humboldt."

"Nevada Salutes the World of Entertainment" was the theme of the 1962 Homecoming. We built floats, practiced for Wolve's Frolic, attended the assembly and football game and were lucky if we were still awake enough to attend the dance. Fortunately (or unfortunately) it only comes once a year.

The "Dizzyland" of Lambda Chi had the distinction of being the largest float in the parade.

Pi Beta Phi urged "String 'Em Along."

Cheerleader Diane Sturm rode Bertha, one of the half-time attractions.

Alpha Tau Omega's "Don't Fiddle With Nevada."

Theta Chi's idea of entertainment "Nevada Hits the Jackpot."

The S.A.E.'s dinasour

The Independent's Oscar for "Best Performance By a Wolf."

The World's Fair entertainment was visualized by the American Society of Civil Engineers in their float "Needle Humboldt."

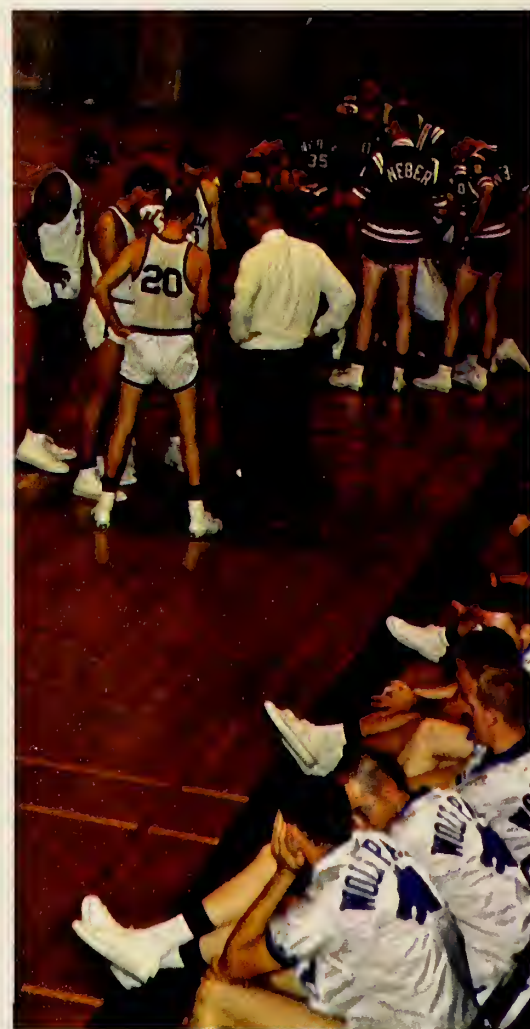

The Gamma Phi Beta float had a talented wolf on "Give 'Em Treble."

Pi Beta Phi took home the permanent trophy after presenting "All the King's Women."

FROLIC WINNERS

The Kildare and Casey forces battled it out in Sigma Nu's winning skit, "Who Really Rates?"

Gamma Phi Beta presented "Dial B for Broadway."

Alpha Tau Omega started the Frolic off with
"The Start of Something Big."

Bob Herron made the female population swoon between acts.

"The Silent Era" by the men of Lambda Chi Alpha reminded us of the days of silent films.

A very unusual act featuring a flaming baton.

Delta Delta Delta presented "Shine On, Nevada U."

White Pine Hall's "Our Little Hollywood."

Nevada's answer to The Kingston Trio-The Shades.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon presented their version of "Alfred Hitchcock Presents."

Kappa Alpha Theta lived it up in their skit entitled "Inhibitions Prohibited."

Judy Black, 1962 Homecoming Queen, is presented with a trophy and traditional red roses.

We also had an assembly at which the Coronado's were one of the entertaining groups.

On Friday, the cheerleaders decorated the goalposts . . . with crepe paper.

Audrey Chambers and the band entertained at half-time of the game. . .

. . . which we won over Humboldt State.

Homecoming 1962 ended with a dance at Mathiesen's Hall.

A few tense minutes before the announcements, and then . . . celebration!

In November the IFC gave their annual bean feed and presented the Kinnear Trophy to Alpha Tau Omega. Individual trophies are also awarded at this time. Also in November was the Student Union sponsored James Roosevelt speech who presented his commentary on the 1962 off-year election and his prognosis of activities to be undertaken by the 88th Congress.

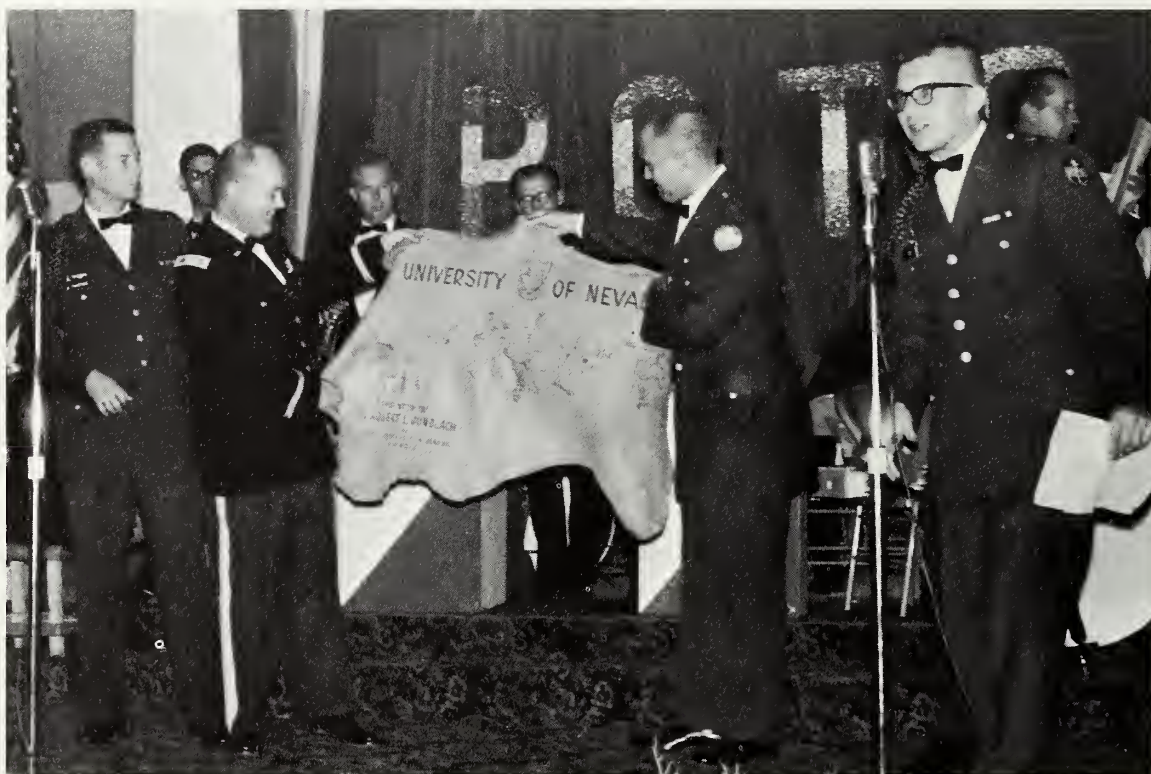

The Hall-Buckley debate took place on December thirteenth on the subject "Resolved: The House Committee on Un-American Activities Should Be Abolished."

Vickie Smith of Elko receives a bouquet of red roses from Colonel Gundlach as she begins her reign as queen of the 34th annual military ball. Miss Smith represented White Pine Hall and was attended by Sally Shank, Kappa Alpha Theta; Judy Schmidt, Delta Delta Delta; Andree Walker, Pi Beta Phi; Peggy Hayman, Gamma Phi Beta; Suzanne Glenn, Manzanita Hall; and Rosemary Lituanian representing the Off-Campus Independents.

Colonel Gundlach receives a gift from the Cadet Officer's Corps.

Quick! Hide the bottle!

This year's Military Ball lived up to its expectations as the "biggest and best," and promises to have been one of the social highlights of the year.

Andy McKenzie receives his insignia of rank as Cadet Colonel and Brigade Commander from Colonel Gundlach, Cadet Colonel is the highest rank which can be attained in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

Careful! Those things are sharp.

The Town Pipers

Then the traveling salesman said . . .

The Campus Players presented "The Cave Dwellers" by William Saroyan and directed by Robert Strane; and "The Emperor's New Clothes" under the direction of Dr. William C. Miller.

See how I'm protected by this invisible sheild.

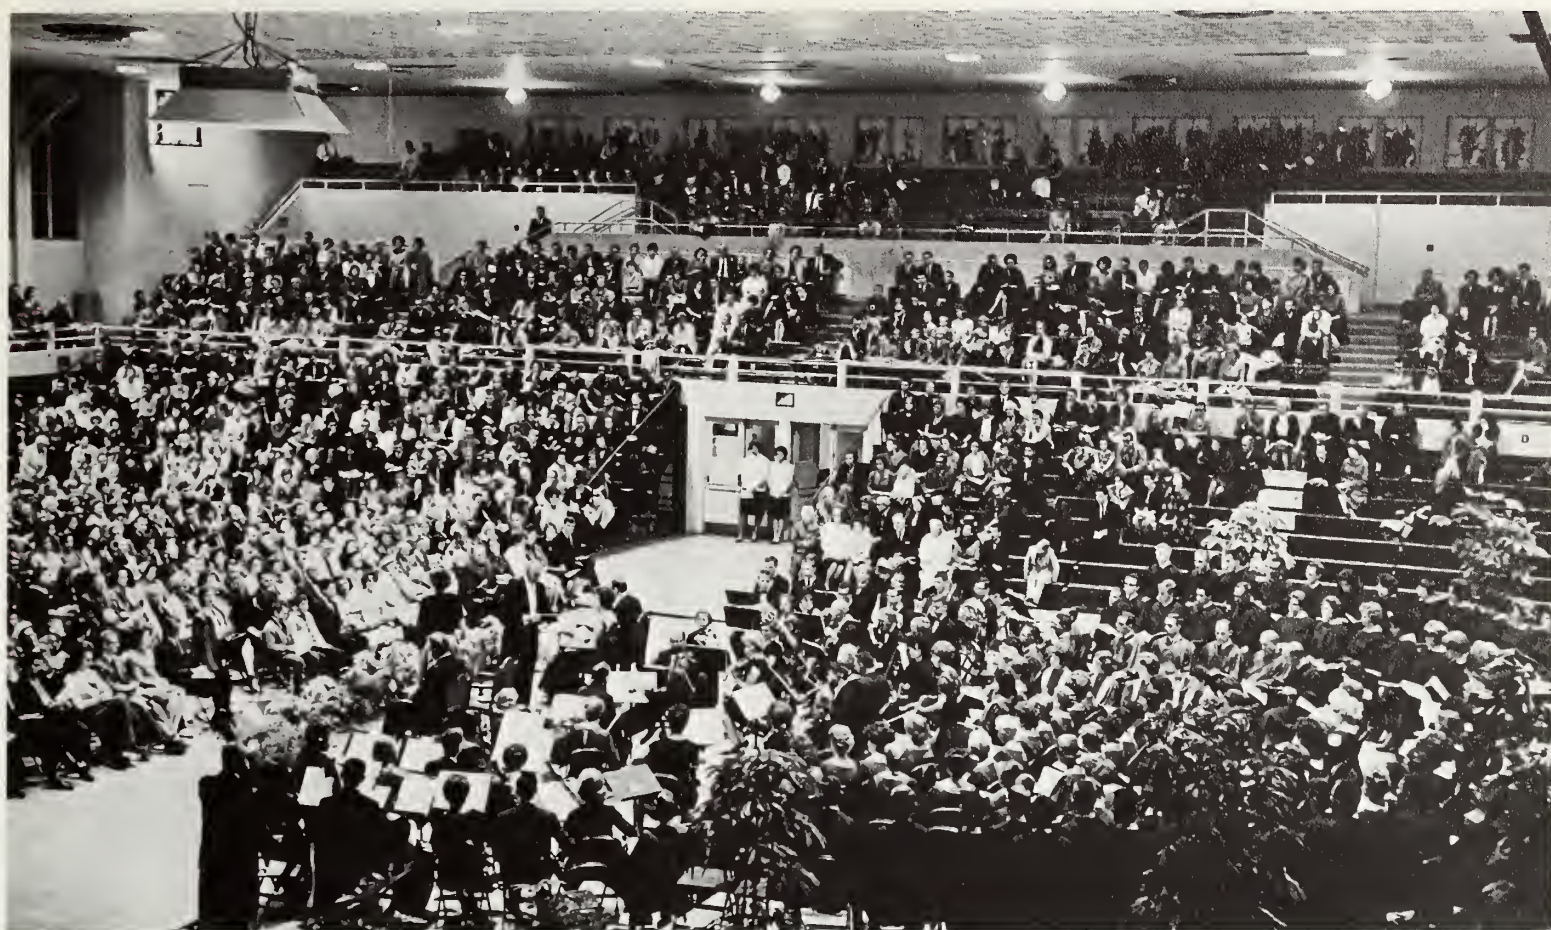

And this is my brother George.

Last time I walk to school.

DECEMBER

The joy of Christmas was represented in the glorious majesty of the annual production of Handel's Messiah by the University Singers, and the simple joy of Christmas carols sung by the Madrigal Singers. Both groups were under the direction of Dr. William Keith Macy of the University music department. The Messiah featured a soloist from the Mormon Tabernacle Choir.

December saw the sorority and fraternity Christmas formals. Starting early in December, they provided a rousing prelude to the Christmas vacation and holidays. Many of Reno's finer dining and entertainment establishments were the scene of formal dances. The Mapes Hotel proved once again to be the most popular among the sororities and fraternities. The Mapes hosted dances for Sigma Nu, Pi Beta Phi, and Kappa Alpha Theta.

Bazooka Blows Bigger Bubbles.

No, I always travel this way.

Yecchh! Get away from me with that smelly thing.

Where's the ladies' room?

Vroom!

Do you have a Musician's Union card?

Mechanical engineering lab.

Are you really a spy from the Secret Service?

The Monaco was the scene of dances for Theta Chi and Delta Delta Delta. The Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Alpha Epsilon functions were each held at The Lancer, while the Alpha Tau Omega and Gamma Phi Beta dances were held at the Hidden Valley Country Club and the Riverside Hotel, respectively. Sigma Phi Epsilon elected to hold its Christmas formal at the Villa Roma. Lincoln Hall, Artemesia Hall, White Pine Hall and Manzanita Hall were hosted at the Hidden Valley Country Club.

Merry Christmas!

Have you been good all year?

Can I put it on now?

The spirit of giving was illustrated by campus organizations and living groups during the Christmas season. Children from the Reno-Sparks area were entertained by these groups. Santa Claus, or one of his helpers, distributed gifts to the children.

Maybe they'll let me play with it.

I thought Santa Claus was downtown.

The University of Nevada Cadet Officers Club held its initiation for advanced military juniors before Christmas vacation. The mid-December maneuvers included relay races, exercises, drill, and more exercises. A highlight was guarding the women's residence halls on campus. The guards demanded a "kiss or a dime" from all women entering or leaving the dorms.

After finals the machines take over, preparing grade reports and getting cards ready for registration. This is the time when you see groups of students gathered around bulletin boards with anxious expressions to see the all important grade.

Then it's registration time again as the gym is filled with mass confusion. Characteristics — long lines, questions, confused expressions, many cards, and bent heads.

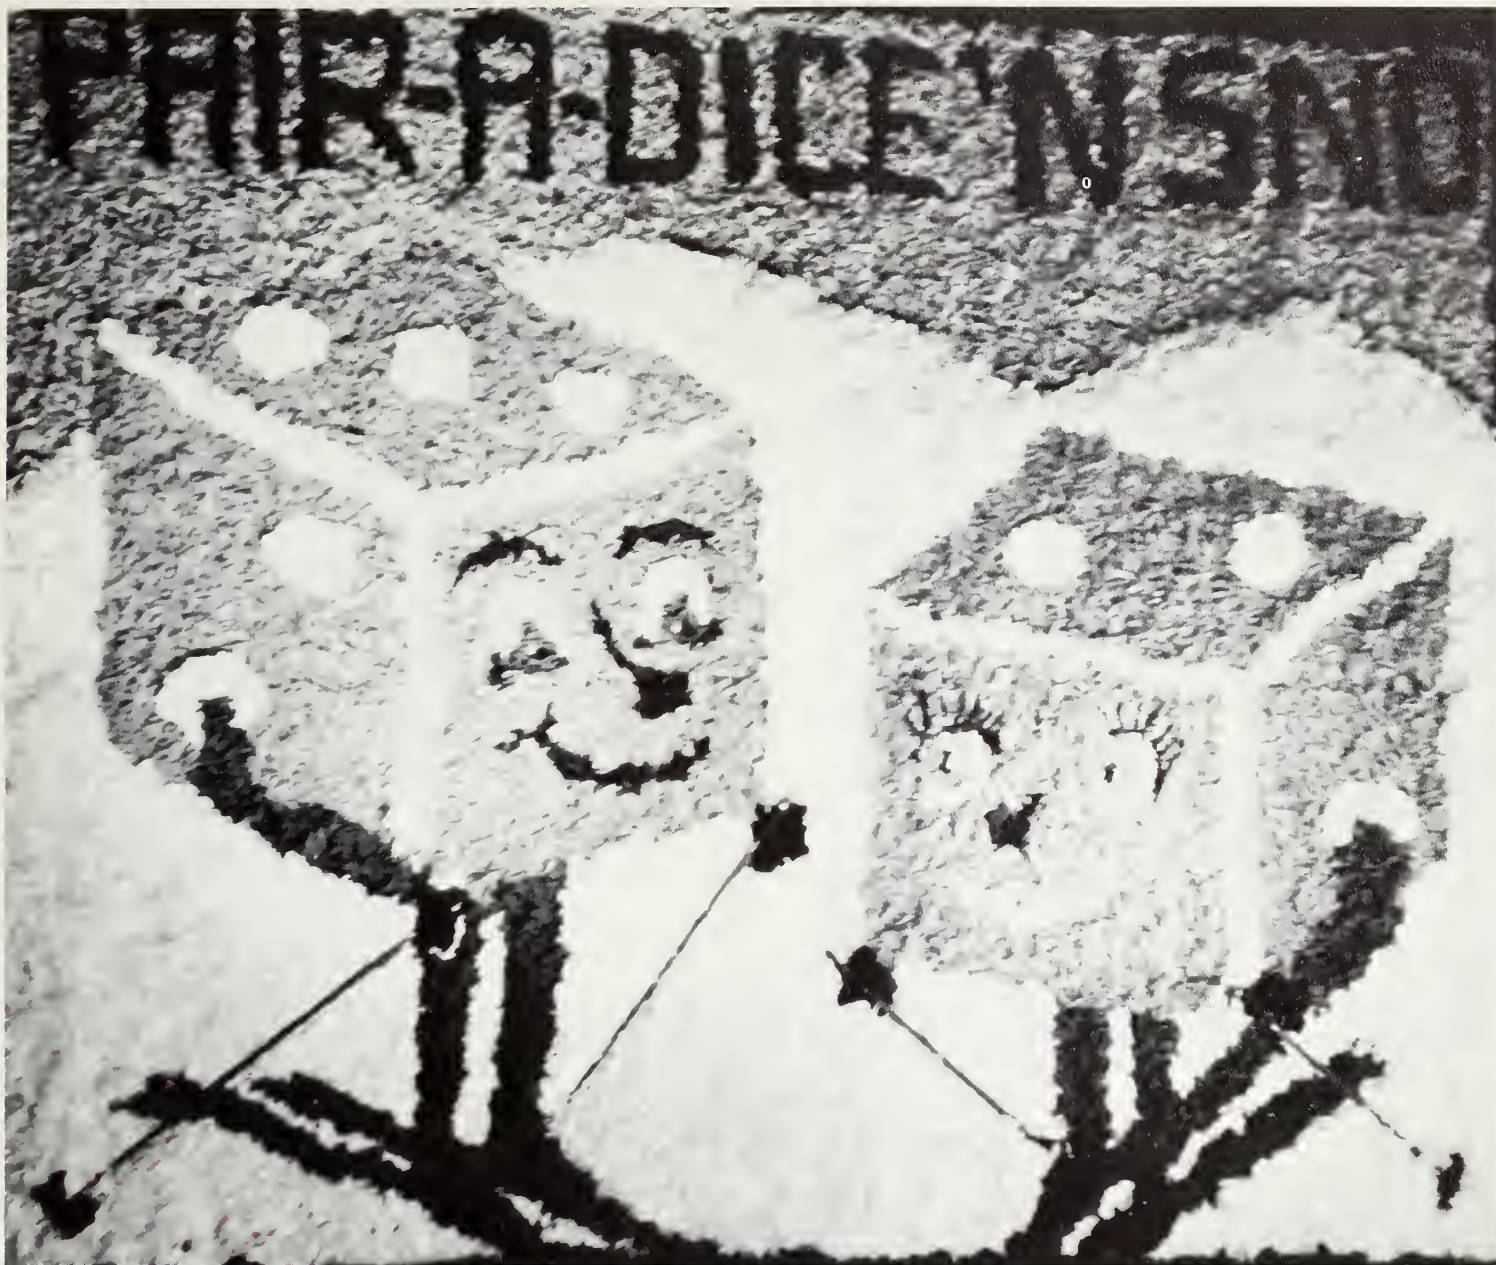

Construction proceeded rapidly on campus building projects. Juniper Hall and the Life Science Wing of the College of Agriculture neared completion. Forms were also laid for the Jot-Travis Student Union addition. The old and the new were contrasted as the regents voted to move long-time Mackay Stadium and the modernistic Atmospherium for the Desert Research Institute began to take shape.

"Pair-a-Dice 'n Snow" was the winning decoration of the 1963 Winter Carnival. The winner was the cooperative effort of Delta Delta Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Phi Sigma Kappa.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Winter Carnival 1963, in spite of adverse snow conditions, was a great success. Nine ski teams competed including Chico State, Sierra College, Air Force Academy, University of California, University of Oregon, Arizona State, Utah State, Stanford, and Nevada. Chico State took first place, narrowly edging out Sierra by two-tenths of a point. Nevada finished third. Skimeister was Thor Mjoren of Sierra College.

The entry of SAE, Gamma Phi Beta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon was "Skier's Haven."

"Two Winter Sports in One" was the contribution of Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, and Theta Chi.

Manzanita and Artemisia Halls cooperated to produce this abstract skier.

PARADISE IN SNOW

... was the all-over theme of the Carnival and various renditions of it were shown in front of all the women's living groups.

White Pine and Lincoln Halls' theme was "I'm in Heaven" and pictured an angelic skier.

A wolf in a paradise of another kind was pictured by Pi Beta Phi and Sigma Nu.

Winter Carnival activities are many and varied. It was a busy week for all of us, after many weeks of preparation by the committee. Activities included open houses at the women's living groups, a dance, and, of course, skiing on the hill.

The year at a glance brings out a few other events, more or less important. The flood of the Truckee River affected all of us — flooded basements and transportation difficulties. The SAE's purchased two lions which have already received a coat or two of paint. Blue Key started their project of cleaning Manzanita Lake by draining it as shown here.

A Home Grown Product — just like your Sewell's stores in Elko, Winnemucca and the two Reno locations. Of course, Sewell's can't compare with the "young chicks" — we're on our 65th year now as YOUR HOME TOWN GROCER and 15 more years will make us much younger in looks. (Sewell's gets a face lifting every year or so.)

It has been your loyalty and patronage over the years that has enabled Sewell's to handle a greater volume of merchandise which, in turn, has lowered their operating costs. In this modern age — fast living — changing times — it is a real pleasure to serve the people that have stuck by Sewell's over the years. Loyalty such as this has to be earned — it can not be purchased or bargained for.

Thanks again, you nice people, for your loyalty and allowing us to be YOUR HOME TOWN GROCER. Remember, everyday prices at Sewell's are as LOW, and in many cases LOWER, than other so-called advertised specials. Sewell's has NO STAMPS, NO GIMMICKS, NO GIVEAWAYS that add overhead you can't eat but do shop Sewell's for your share of COOL, GREEN, CASH SAVINGS!

Your Home Town Grocer
Sincerely,

SEWELL'S
